MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

WOMEN SUFFER

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong?
The cause may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. F. Walsh, of 315 W. 86th St., New York City, writes:—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

DRAMATIC OPENING

Some of the New Season's Features in New York Houses.

VERSION OF TOLSTOI PLAY.

Virginia Harned seen as Anna Ka-renina—John Drew in London Hit, "My Wife," Succeeds, With Billie Burke as Leading Woman.

[From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.]

Hark, hark! The critics bark;
The new plays are in town.

Virginia Harned has been impressing New Yorkers by her performance at the Herald Square theater of a dramatization of Tolstol's powerful novel, "Anna Karenina."

So confident were Miss Harned's managers that she would succeed in the drama that they booked her for an unusually long tour of the country, one extending through the east, west, north and south.

Miss Harned very vividly presented the heart hunger of the wife longing

VIRGINIA HARNED.

for a word of that love which the husband is unable to utter, the consequent passion that hurried her to ruin and the desolation and despair of that ruin when passion passes from its first intoxication to sober recognition of its results.

As Alexis Karenin Mr. Mason made a praiseworthy attempt, more intelligent in the effort than intelligible in the expression, to master the intricacies of a mind scrupulously honest, of the most sensitive honor and anxiety for right and justice, which, though keen and unmasterful in its dealings with men, is wavering, undecided, incapable, when confronted with the problem of a woman's heart.

The best scene in the play is that wherein Karenin, by a stratagem of which he is promptly ashamed, wrests from his wife the secret of her still guiltless passion. It was followed by the audience with breathless attention until the fall of the curtain released their pent up emotions in a hurricane of applause.

The rest of the cast was not specially noticeable.

Scenery and costumes were effectively artistic, and the atmosphere of the localities in which the story passes was well maintained to the eye. As a whole the play was well received, and in parts it deeply moved the audience.

John Drew in a leading London success, "My Wife," adapted from the French by Michael Morton, has scored at the Empire theater, with Billie Burke in the leading role, played in

JOHN DREW.

London at the Theater Royal, Hay-market, by Miss Lohr.

The drama has many bright lines and amusing situations. The story concerns a capricious young girl who persuades a friend, an experienced old bachelor, to marry her and promise to live separate from her so that she may inherit a fortune.

ROBERT BUTLER.

Establishes New Throwing Record.
Left Fielder Lafenne of the Springfield team of the Central Baseball league is credited with throwing a baseball 124 yards. The distance was measured directly after the throw and showed exactly 124 yards, according to the players on both the Evansville and Springfield teams who handled the tape-line.

FOR WINTER EVENINGS.

Identification a Good Game For Fiction Readers.

A good game for a company of fiction readers is called Identification. It is easily arranged and never fails to "take" with intelligent people.

When the amusement is about to begin the hostess distributes among her guests large cards or strips of cardboard on which are the names of fifty characters, male and female, extracted from standard or popular novels, who must be identified.

This is done by writing opposite the name of the character the title of the novel in which it figures. Each player may have a separate list, or one list may be given to each pair of partners who work together to complete it.

In preparing a set of characters avoid selecting those which fill title roles or who are too familiar to the reader.

A good beginning for such a list would be:

Babbalanja ("The Little Minister").
Dinah Morris ("Adam Bede").
Nydia ("The Last Days of Pompeii").
Kate Harcourt ("She Stoops to Conquer").

Adam Moss ("A Kentucky Cardinal").

Little Eve ("Uncle Tom's Cabin").

Blanche Amory ("Pendennis").

Rosamund Lyndal ("Middlemarch").

Sir Lucius O'Toole ("The Rivals").

Josephine March ("Little Women").

Baruch ("The Education of a Citizen").

Edward Fairfax Rochester ("Jane Eyre").

Miss Euphemia Devereux ("The Fortunes of War").

Rebecca ("The Tenant of Wildfell Hall").

Lady Teulon ("The Sign of the Cross").

Quip ("Old Curiosity Shop").

Eugene Marchbanks ("Candida").

Lucy Dashwood ("Charles O'Malley").

Phineas Fletcher ("John Halifax").

A popular or standard novel would make a good choice in prizes, to be awarded for the longest list of correct answers.

BEDS AND BEDMAKING.

Many False Notions on This Important Subject Exploded.

Many people used to have an impression that to sleep on a soft bed had a spice of wickedness in it and that the harder the mattress the greater the virtue of the sleeper.

This arose in great part from the fact that feather beds were generally condemned as unhealthy, and the ignorant at once seized the idea that they were unhealthy because soft, whereas they are unhealthy because they do not permit of proper ventilation.

More we learn that the health lies in an abundant supply of fresh air and that the best way to secure it is in the want of a bed which will allow of its free passage to and from the bed and into the room. A bed which is of the greatest value to the sleeper should be thoroughly ventilated.

It goes without saying that the bedroom must have fresh air have free access to it.

From the point of view of health it is a matter of indifference whether the bedstead be of wood or of iron, but the most comfortable and at the same time healthy are those fitted with chain spring mattresses. These mattresses may be bought separately and fitted to any bedstead.

AIDS TO BEAUTY.

Small white spots which often appear on the nails are caused from bruising.

This arms should be washed twice a day with a fine lather of soap, rinsed well, dried thoroughly and then rubbed vigorously. This treatment will bring the pores into action and induce a healthy condition of the skin.

It is nonsense to think that soap and water and a complexion brush will cause a growth of hair on the face.
Superfluous hair is more likely to grow on a dust laden, oily skin. Soap, hot water and a complexion brush used every night are necessary to get the face clean. A good cream will counteract the drying effects of the soap.

First Aid Valise.

Are you thinking of taking a number of youngsters on a vacation, or are you off for a motor trip?

If you are you need a first aid valise.
This is the latest production of those purveyors who are always inventing something useful for the motorist. It is a small but very useful receptacle of remedies for bruises, cuts and other ills that may, alas, befall the traveler on automobile.

Rolls of lint, flasks of cooling and healing lotions, scissors, a small bottle of brandy and other items of first aid utility are contained in a little leather box, the color of which must be determined by the lining of the car. Of course it may serve on any sort of a jaunt.

Peppermint Candy.

Sugar, one cup; flavoring, one teaspoonful; water, a quarter cup. Boil water and sugar seven or eight minutes.
Take off the stove and add the peppermint flavoring. Stir briskly with a large spoon until quite thick. Then pour into a well buttered pan and set on the ice to cool.

Value of Tact.

Women have more constant need of exercising the gift of tact than men.
There is, as a rule, essentially the day of little things, and a little of it serves to lighten most of the heaviest lumps of life.

An American Stage Beauty SAVED HER HAIR WITH NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

SHE WRITES AS FOLLOWS TO THE HERPICIDE CO.:

"For the past two years I played a part that necessitated the wearing of a wig. My scalp would perspire under the wig and it was not long until dandruff made its appearance and constantly grew worse. I used every remedy I could find to rid my head of it, but all to no avail. I finally decided to give Newbro's Herpicide a thorough trial.

I cleaned and dried my hair before applying Herpicide and after three or four applications I was delighted to see the dandruff disappear and my hair is now as nice as ever.

I could not be without Herpicide and I can recommend it most highly and believe it will do all that is claimed for it."

Respectfully,
(Signed) JULIA H. TOBIAS, you claim for it."

Stern duty to the dead people compels us to admit that the National is very limited as to radius, but that is no serious fault. We are obliged to add in the interests of pure, unadwasn't a real journeyman fixer or a very badly. President Pulliam should
